

Job Title:

Traffic Engineer – Studies

Job Type:

Full-Time

Position Overview

The position will involve the various types of transportation engineering studies such as traffic impact studies, signal warrant studies, development of regional impact studies, and intersection control evaluation studies. The Traffic Engineer will use Synchro and SimTraffic software to complete macro and micro simulation analysis of traffic operations. This position requires entry level proficiency and ability to complete job responsibilities under the direction of senior team members.

Qualifications and Skills

- Bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering or related field
- EIT/FE Certification
- 0-2 years of relevant experience
- Basic written and verbal communication skills
- Basic organization skills
- Advanced Microsoft Excel Skills
- Basic knowledge of Synchro and SimTraffic softwares
- Understanding of Transportation Engineering concepts

Duties and Responsibilities

- Communicate and collaborate with team members on project schedules
- Maintain professionalism, communicate, and collaborate with team members
- Ability to manage workflow process of a study
- Complete quality control measures
- Determine road improvements and recommendations when necessary

Benefits

- Employee Health Insurance: Medical, Dental, Vision
- Long-Term and Short-Term Disability Benefits
- 401K with Company Contribution
- Paid Time Off
- Professional Training and Development Opportunities